

A way for companies to do their bit for the planet

Letter from MASAYO HADA
Assistant Manager,
Regional Environment Management Group
Ricoh Asia Pacific Pte Ltd

WORLD Environment Day, commemorated on June 5, is one of the main events through which the United Nations stimulates worldwide awareness for the environment.

Together with the Singapore Environment Council, Ricoh is promoting "Eco Action 2007". Our objective is to showcase June 5 as an event to improve awareness of energy conservation and climate change among people in Singapore.

A tangible goal for this special event is for all the participating organisations to minimise energy consumption on June 5.

We strongly believe in Eco Action as a vehicle for the fulfilment of corporate social responsibility. We would like to take this opportunity to invite as many companies or organisations as possible for the June 5 event.

The combined efforts of all participants will make a meaningful difference.

Please visit www.sec.org.sg/ecoaction/ecoaction.html for more information and to register. The closing date for registration is May 28, 2007.
